COMMENTS

1.5) Please provide some specific examples of what you found to be educationally effective or ineffective during this course (e.g., organization, helpfulness, overall teaching ability, assessments.)

- Katrina was super kind and always had a path to solution for any problems you had. She was engaging and tried to keep a hold of your attention especially when she's showing us some difficult code. If I were to add any improvements, I would suggest maybe going over the first lab problem after giving the lecture. Sometimes the direction of which way you should be thinking about the code is hard to find and you end up going down quite a difficult path to solution. Showing guidance on the first problem or adding an example problem to the lab would've been pretty helpful to kickstart the lab and would minimize some initial student questions.
- She did a great job presenting the content succinctly and answering questions during lab time
- Katrina was super approachable and helpful when we had questions. I loved having her as my lab instructor and provided good insight and advice when we asked for them.
- I loved the visuals presented and the leniency on the due dates for the labs. It was a joy being in this class as I was able to really understand the python parts and I eventually started to enjoy using dataframes and graphs to prove a point. Thank you so much for being the actual best Katrina! Best of luck in your masters program :)
- We had strong notes available to us by the professor to assist us in the assignments.
- During labs, sometimes there was a lot of confusion on concepts, and instructor was confused as well. However, instructor cared a lot about her students and always brought a positive attitude.
- Katrina was very helpful and explained the material very well. She took the class before, so she was able to teach the material relatively well.

- Good facilitator during labs.
- class format is always organized
- They were a very fun person to talk to and very helpful in giving tips and tricks about real world scenarios. I think we could have used more examples of bad presentation but other than that, it was a very informative class.
- I liked how the labs that were taught and lab assignments were usually pretty closely aligned. The TA was very nice and helpful, she could have been a bit more familiar with coding in some aspects but she did point us in the direction of the IME data analytics tutor.
- Good in-class instruction. Some of the material felt disconnected from the course at times. Good class :)
- Katrina always put in a 100% to make sure I understood what I was confused about. If I had an issue with my code she would not rest until we figured it out. I appreciate that kind of care that she has for us because many TAs do not at all. Sometimes the lectures were a little fast for me, but overall they were definitely helpful.
- I've never had a grad student as a professor before, but I found that Katrina was always so positive and made the classroom a comfortable setting. She was highly relatable which I really valued.
